PREFACE.

It is with a good degree of pleasure, and we may be allowed to say, not unmixed with pride, that we lay before the people of Key West, and the still larger public in general, the first local directory ever issued of this most delightful, and, from a financial standpoint, the leading commercial and manufacturing city in the State. In the immediately following descriptive sketch of Key West are given data compiled from the most reliable sources attainable, which go far to sustain the foregoing statement and shows conclusively that the present status of the city and island is in the foremost rank. The city's growth and importance is an assured fact, being only limited by the size of the island; every foot of space available for building purposes commanding a constantly growing price.

While the rapidly increasing population and the expansion of business on all hands, together with the changes in firms, render a work of this kind somewhat incomplete or ephemeral at best, we hope it will be seen upon examination that we have spared no effort nor expense in order, as far as possible, to attain completeness. We have also aimed to give the public at large a favorable and still truthful impression of the importance of this island city and its surroundings.

For the very liberal and generous support of the professional and business men of "Cayo Hueso," and the universal courtesy extended to us by citizens generally we herein offer our hearty thanks. It is our present purpose to issue a similar work annually, and hope to add to it increasing interest by recording the evidences as they accumulate of the growth and prosperity of the most richly gifted and highly favored city of "the land of flowers;" and thus in the future, as in the present we hope, in our humble way to be instrumental in placing and maintaining Key West in its proper position in the chain of great Southern commercial centres.

Very Respectfully,

A. A. BENSEL,

Compiler and Publisher.

KEY WEST.

[THE GEM OF THE SEA.]

In the preparation of the following sketch we do not lay claim to originality, our province lying principally in the compilation of facts and figures in reference to the present status of Key West. The past history, up to 1876, was ably written and delivered in an address by Hon. Walter C. Maloney, on July 4th of that year, and the credit for this portion of the sketch is in a great measure due to that gentleman, from whose work we have quoted largely.

HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE.

LOCATION AND IMPORTANCE.

Key West (the city and island both bearing the same name) is one of the series of islands known as the Florida Keys, at the extreme south of the peninsula, is the county seat of Monroe County; the rendezvous of the United States naval vessels of the North Atlantic squadron, having the finest, most secure deep water harbor on the Gulf; the headquarters of the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida; is the largest port of entry on the Gulf coast, and from its large customs collections ranks as the thirteenth port in the United States. It is 240 miles south of Tampa; 290 miles south by east from Cedar Key, and 90 miles north of Havana, Cuba.

EARLY HISTORY.

"It is probable," says Mr. Whitehead (the gentleman who surveyed and mapped out the city in the days of its earliest settlement, and who subsequently bore a conspicuous part in its affairs for many years), "that, from the time of the first visit of Ponce de Leon until the cession of the Floridas to the United States, the islands (or the Keys as they are termed, a corruption of the Spanish word 'Cayo'), which extended in a southwesterly direction from Cape Florida, were only resorted to by the aborigines of the country, the piratical crews with which the neighboring seas were infested, and the fishermen (many of them from St. Augustine) who were engaged in supplying the market of Havana from the 'finny tribes' that abounded in their vicinity. Of the occasional presence of the first, we have evidence in the marks of ancient fortifications, or mounds of stone, found in various localities (in one of which, opened some years since, human bones of a large size were discovered), and tradition has, in addition, brought down to us notices of them which deserve all the credit conferred upon the same authority in other parts of the country. The oldest settlers in this section of the country, one whose residence in the neighborhood of Charlotte Harbor dates back to 1785, used to say that in his early years he had heard it stated that some eighty or ninety years previous (probably about the commencement of the eighteenth century) the Indians inhabiting the islands along the coast, and those on the mainland were of different tribes, and as the Islanders frequently visited the main for the purpose of hunting, a feud arose between the two tribes, and those from the main having made an irruption into the islands, their inhabitants were driven from island to island until they reached Key West. Here, as they could flee no further, they were compelled to risk a final battle, which resulted in the almost entire extermination of the islanders. Only a few escaped (and that by a miracle, as they embarked in canoes upon the ocean), whose descendants, it is said, were known to have been met with in the island of Cuba.

"This sanguinary battle strewed this island with bones, as it is probable the conquerors tarried not to commit the bodies to the ground, hence the name of the island Cayo Hueso (in Spanish 'Bone Island,') which the English, with the same facility which enabled them to transform the name of the mine Xeres ceco into 'Sherry sack,' corrupted into 'Key West.'

"That the harbor of Key West was the occasional resort of pirates, has been proven by the evidence of many who were connected with them in their lawless depredations, and by the discovery of hidden articles, that could only have been secreted by them.

"On the 26th of August, 1815, for some military services rendered to the government by Juan P. Salas, Don Juan de Estrado, then Governor of Florida, granted to him the Island of Key West, but nothing was done by Salas in the way of settlement or improvement, and the Island bore the same wild aspect it had worn for ages, when on the 20th of December, 1821, Salas sold his right, title and interest to John W. Simonton, then of Mobile, who met with Salas in Havana. Having heard of the advantageous situation and capacity of the harbor, etc., Mr. Simonton was induced, from the certain prospect of improvement throughout the country, by the cession to the United States, which his mercantile experience led him to foresee must advance the interest of a settlement at this point, he consummated the purchase of the Island for the sum of two thousand dollars, and, on the 19th of January, 1822, he took possession.

"Soon after making the purchase of the island, Mr. Simonton sold one undivided quarter of his interest to John Warner and John Mountain, and two other quarters to John Whitehead and John W. C. Fleeming, also of Mobile at that time. The interest of Messrs Warner and Mountain was soon after transferred to Pardon C. Greene, who became a permanent resident of the island from that time."

Mr. Whitehead notices the remarkable connection of the name "John" with all those who figured prominently at that time in the acquisition and settlement of the island—thus—John de Estrada, the Spanish Governor of Florida, granted the island to John P. Salas, who made a conditional sale to John P. Strong, who conveyed his title, such as it was, to John W. Simonton. John W. Simonton having secured the title of John P. Salas, disposed of a portion of it to John Whitehead, and John W. C. Fleeming, John Warner and John Mountain, and John B. Strong transferred his claim, such as it was, to John Geddes, who, having the countenance of the commander of a United States vessel in the harbor, effected a landing and took possession in April, 1822. A suit at law was thereupon commenced, and John W. Simonton engaged as his counsel John Rodman and John Gadsden. This suit, it will not be improper to remark here, was finally terminated by a compromise.

The Commissioners appointed under the Treaty of Cession with Spain, having reported favorably upon the validity of the grant to Salas, the same was confirmed by Congress, thus settling perfectly and forever, all title to lands on the island of Key West derived legally through John P. Salas and John W. Simonton.

It is remarkable that the successors of these numerous Johns, upon seeking the name of a titular saint for ecclesiastical purposes selected that of Paul. It may have been owing to the fact that St. Paul was more identified with islands and the sea than was St. John.

A territorial government having been established for Florida in March, 1819, several persons from St. Augustine, Bahama Islands, South Carolina and other states of the Union, repaired to this Island shortly after it was taken possession of, and were hospitably received by the proprietors. Building lots were given to some of them within that part of the island intended to be laid out for a city. Among the first settlers were Joseph C. Whalton and family; Michael Mabrity and family;

William W. Rigby and family; Antonio Giraldo and family; Mr. Richard Fitzpatrick, and others.

On the 7th of February, 1822, Lieut. M. C. Perry, commander of the U. S. Schooner Shark, received orders to visit and examine the island and harbor, and to take possession as part of the territory ceded by Spain; and on the 25th of March following, the interesting ceremony was witnessed by the few residents, of raising a staff and displaying therefrom the flag of the United States, while at the same time their sovereignty over this and the neighboring islands was formally proclaimed. Captain Perry named the island "Thompson's Island," and the harbor "Port Rodgers," the first in the honor of the then Secretary of the Navy, and the other after Commodore Rodgers, the President of the Navy Board. These cognomens according to the report of Commander Perry, seem to have originated with him, and were in accordance with the wishes of the proprietors of the island, three of whom were present, but they have long ceased to be used. During the summer some officers and men were left on the island, dwelling in tents.

In February, 1822, Captain L. T. Patterson and Lieut. Tuttle, of the U. S. Navy, arrived with orders from the government to survey the coast and harbor, and they were soon followed by various government vessels bringing stores and materials, and by the end of the year the island was a regularly constituted Naval Depot and station, under the command of Commodore Porter.

The government of the United States since the early period thus briefly reviewed, has made, by fits and starts, some progress in the military defences of the island; and it is to be regretted, oftener from the importunities of our congressmen on mere party exigencies, than from any statesmanlike views of the absolute necessity of such works in times of national emergencies.

In 1824, a company of United States Marines was stationed here, and barracks erected for them, fronting upon the harbor between Duval and Whitehead streets. These buildings stood in a dilapidated condition until about 1831, when they were sold and removed.

In February, 1831, Major James M. Glassel arrived in command of a detachment of two companies of infantry, leading to the purchase of about ten acres of land in the northeastern section of the city, and the erection of buildings for the accommodation of the troops. In 1844 these structures were removed, and the present spacious and ornamental buildings erected. * * *

In 1845 Fort Taylor was commenced, and so much of the work as had been accomplished up to October, 1846, was, by the disastrous hurricane of that year, washed away, together with the lighthouse on Whitehead's point. Another lighthouse was constructed a few years after, and still stands on Whitehead street.

The work on Fort Taylor, although interrupted, was not suspended, and was so far completed as to be available for garrison purposes from 1861 to 1865. At present it is unoccupied, and is under the care of the Engineer Department.

In 1856 a United States Depot, or storehouse, was commenced at the corner of Whitehead and Front streets, contiguous to the Custom House. In April, 1857, when the walls were ready to receive the roof, for want of an appropriation by Congress, work on this building was suspended, and so remained for several years, and at the outbreak of the civil war was in this unfinished condition.

Whether by design or apathy, this strategic point in the defences of the nation was unprovided with a single ton of coal for the use of the navy, and the steamship Atlantic, after conveying troops for the relief of Fort Pickens, having touched at this point for a supply, found none, and was compelled to sail to Havana therefor.

The incalculable advantages afforded by the experience of the war, in having and holding this harbor as a naval depot and rendezvous for the East Gulf Squadron, seems to have faded from the minds of those charged with the welfare of the nation. They have not heeded the wise suggestion of Gen. Washington, "In time of peace prepare for war."

After the commencement of the civil war, and during its progress, a machine shop and foundry were erected because indispensable to the operations of the East Gulf Blockading Squadron in these waters; but these valuable works are now occupied by land-crabs and other of the amphibious genus piscine.

Between the Custom House and Fort Taylor, both admirably located for their respective uses, a Marine Hospital was constructed in 1845, and is well adapted for its purposes. It was slightly damaged by the great hurricane of 1846. It is at present under the charge of Passed Assistant Surgeon A. H. Glennan, under whose direction a substantial break-water has been completed, and other extensive repairs inaugurated. During the past year there were 1,014 patients treated, and three deaths.

In 1828 a Territorial or Federal Court was established by act of Congress, under the title of the "Supreme Court for the Southern Judicial District of the Territory of Florida;" with civil and criminal jurisdiction, as well for offences against the laws of the Territory of Florida as of the United States, and embracing admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, thus superceding the jurisdiction of local inferior magistrates and special commissioners for the adjudication of questions of salvage arising out of the frequent wrecks occurring in the vicinity. * *

For purposes of municipal government, an act of the Legislative Council of the Territory of Florida was obtained in January, 1828, to incorporate the Island of Key West. In November of the same year it was repealed by an act to incorporate the Town of Key West. This latter act incorporates the free white inhabitants of that part of the Island of Key West in the county of Monroe, comprehended within the limits prescribed by the plan of said Town, then on file in the clerk's office of said county, (which limits are at this day the same as they were then, as delineated on the original map of the town) all free white male persons over twenty-one years, having had a residence for three whole months within these limits, being qualified electors.

The government of the town was vested in a person to be called President, and in a Council to consist of six persons. This President and Council were not only empowered to enforce the laws of their own body, but also all the Laws of the Legislative Council of the Territory; and yet more singular, their power to levy taxes was confined to taxing and licensing "Hawkers and Peddlers and transient traders," and to the levying of a "poll tax;" unless the power to levy and collect other taxes shall be found in the other granted powers,—“to provide for the interior police and good government of said town,” a question which lawyers might find pregnant with doubts.

The incorporated Town gave place to an incorporated City in 1832. The act of incorporation gave more general and specific powers to the City authorities, especially in regard to the subject of taxation, regulating and restraining the retailing of spirituous liquors, etc.

Under this act of incorporation of the City (proper), the first evidence of a valuation of real estate is to be found for purposes of taxation. The assessed value of all the real estate in the City at that time amounted to $65,923.75; the improved portion was assessed at $61,005.00; the unimproved, at $25 per acre, $3,918.75.

No power of taxation on personal property was given by this charter, and consequently no tax upon it was assessed or collected. The total amount of taxes collected on this assessment of real estate was $329.61. The number of buildings within the city at that time (1832) was 81, including sheds for storage of wrecked cotton and other articles, blacksmiths' shops, etc. The two principal buildings were the warehouses of Pardon C. Greene and Fielding A. Browne; the assessed value of each, $6,000, including the lands and wharf property. In 1835 this charter was revoked, and in 1836 renewed, and, as amended in 1838, lasted during our Territorial existence.

The last charter (in 1846, under the State administration) continued to be the protection of the well disposed, and the restraint of those otherwise disposed, during the period of the unhappy civil war, until in 1860, when it was superceded by a general law of the legislature enacted under the provisions of the present state constitution, which requires laws of this character to be general; constructing a procrustean bed upon which the infant or the giant must, of necessity, lie.

POPULATION.

The total population of the town in 1831 is recorded at 300. In 1876, 12,733; in 1886, 17,442, and at the present rate of increase will reach 35,000 inside of the next five years.

COMMERCIAL.

Key West derives its importance in the commercial world from—

First. Its geographical position, it being the extreme southern point of the United States;

Second. For its capacious harbor, the great depth of water over its bar and the ease of ingress and egress to and from its outer and inner roadsteads, and

Third. From its affording, as has been already stated, such ready protection to her shipping, naval and otherwise, in time of war and stress of weather.

From these considerations and other facts and statistical information which follow, we claim for Key West that it is the Commercial Emporium of the State of Florida.

which he sold a half interest to W. C. Dennis, to whom the management of the works was entrusted. The amount of salt produced annually varied materially, ranging from 15,000 to 20,000 bushels to 75,000, the largest crop raked in any one year. During the civil war the manufacture of salt on the island was suspended. In 1865 Mr. W. R. Livermore, a lieutenant in the U. S. Engineer Corps, purchased the works and commenced the manufacture, but after spending a large amount of money in the prosecution of the business, was unsuccessful, and in 1871 the works passed into the hands of Messrs. C. & E. Howe. For much of the time since the manufacture commenced, foreign salt has been free of duty, effecting, prejudicially, the result of the home producers. That impediment to success, however, has not existed for some years, but still the manufacture of salt falls far short of the anticipation of the early settlers on the island.

CIGAR MANUFACTURE.

The establishment of the first cigar factory in Key West occurred in 1831, and fifty operatives were employed. The pioneer manufacturer was W. H. Wall.

Estava and Williams, in 1837 and 1838, also operated a factory in which sixteen men were employed, and shipments were made to New York, but communication between the two places was exceedingly irregular and uncertain at that date, being dependent, chiefly, upon vessels going north with cotton from St. Marks or other gulf ports, and often the long time elapsing between opportunities worked serious injury to the business. Odet Phillippe and Shubael Brown also engaged in this business with a force of six men, about the same time. The Arnan Brothers, Francisco and James, as far back as 1834, down to the time of the death of both, were constantly employed in the manufacture, and in 1838 were joined by Albert, another brother. They did not aspire, however beyond domestic trade. Messrs. Francisco Sin-tas, Manuel Farino and E. O. Gwynn, also at different times, and for short periods, were engaged in the business. In 1876 there were twenty-nine factories, giving employment to about 2,100 persons. At present writing, (January, 1887) there are nearly 150 factories, and the output for the past year was 90,000,000 cigars, the amount paid to employees weekly being about $50,000. Key West pays nineteen-twentieths of the internal revenue collected in the State of Florida, which is largely due to the importance of the leading industry of the island—cigar manufacturing.

THE SPONGE INDUSTRY.

Ranking next in importance to cigar manufacturing, is the sponge industry, which adds $250,000 per annum to the business of the island and gives employment to a large number of people. We should like to devote several pages to a description of the modus operandi of securing and preparing this valuable article of commerce for the market, but space will not permit.

TURTLE.

A business of about $5,000 per year is done in this line by Mr. John Lowe, Jr., he being the only exporter.

POSTAL FACILITIES.

The first post office was established in February, 1829, and the first contract for mail service was awarded to the owners of a small sailing vessel called The Post Boy, of about ten tons, to be performed monthly between Charleston and this city, but the trips generally consumed nearer fifty days than thirty. The postage on a letter at that time was twenty-five cents. Now mails are received regularly three times a week.

The Inter-Ocean Telegraph Company, in 1867, commenced to lay their sub-marine line of telegraph cable from this island to the island of Cuba, and another to Punta Rassa, the former a distance of ninety-seven miles, and the latter one hundred and twenty-three miles, which places Key West in telegraphic communication with the rest of the world.

CHURCHES.

For several years the inhabitants of Key West held public religious services in the County Court House. The occasions were few, as only when some clergyman might be transiently on the island, on his way to or from some other place, did an opportunity offer to engage in them.

In March, 1831, a public meeting was called for the purpose of adopting measures for obtaining the services of a clergyman, and the establishment of a school. The accession of several ladies of education and refinement to the society of the island, by the arrival of the families of several judicial and military officers, had worked a considerable change in the manners and customs of the place, so that the movement was made under more favorable auspices than had previously existed.

It is unnecessary to go through the particulars which, after a delay of many months, led to the formation of the first Protestant Episcopal congregation in this City—that being the denomination that pioneered the way to our present ecclesiastical status. Suffice it to say, that the entire church-desiring portion of the population, however differently trained in matters of ritual, peculiarities of religious dogmas and sectarian prejudices, united for the purposes of public devotion, under the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church. A large number of the residents were attached to that communion, and all others accorded to it their second choice, as their own preference could not then be gratified. In the winter of 1832-3, an Act of Legislature was obtained, incorporating the congregation under the name of "St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church," of which Rev. S. K. Brunat was the first pastor.

The site for the erection of the church was the free gift of the widow of Mr. Fleeming, one of the original proprietors of the island. A limestone church was erected on the corner of Eaton and Duval streets in 1840, which was totally destroyed by the memorable hurricane of 1846, and in 1847 the present wooden edifice was erected.

There are now five churches in the city, of the following denominations: Episcopal, two Methodist Episcopal, Baptist, and Roman Catholic, and four colored churches.

The numerous benevolent societies which exist in our city constitute one of its marked features.

There are also many societies, all of which will be found in the Appendix, commencing on page 197 of this book.

EDUCATIONAL.

The earliest school of which we have any information was kept by the Rev. Alvah Bennett, in 1834-5, but was discontinued in April, 1835.

In 1843 provision was made for paying from the county taxes for the education of the children of those persons who were unable to pay; about thirty scholars were at that time taught at the public expense. For each scholar one dollar per month was paid, the teacher providing his own schoolroom.

There are now three public schools.

No. 1.—"Scars' School," Simonton street, between South and Fleming. R. M. Smallwood, Principal.

No. 2.—"The Douglass School" (colored), corner Fleming and Thomas streets. W. G. McCall, Principal.

No. 3.—"San Carlos," (Cuban), corner Thomas and Fleming streets. B. L. Perry, Principal.

There is also an excellent parochial school, under the supervision of the pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, and a number of excellent select schools, both English and Cuban.

STORMS AND FIRES.

The hurricane of 1846 was, perhaps, the most destructive of any that had visited these latitudes within the memory of man. The lighthouse on Whitehead's Point on our island was totally destroyed, with all the members of the keeper's family, seven in number; most of the dwellings in the city were seriously injured or totally destroyed, and a large number of horses and horned cattle blown into the sea, or killed by missiles of timber and slate from surrounding buildings. The yearly apprehended equinoctial storms which have since prevailed have left no record of violence of sufficient importance to notice.

The first fire of any consequence was in 1843, when the large wooden warehouse of F. A. Browne, standing on the south side of Simonton street, near the water, was destroyed.

A fire company existed at that time which was organized about 1836, with Mr. Joseph A. Thouron, foreman, and about twenty-five members. The engine belonging to this company, purchased by means of subscriptions, was never of much use, and after the removal of Mr. Thouron to Charleston, was entirely neglected. At the time of the destruction of Mr. Browne's warehouse it was brought upon the scene, but proving unfit for use, was contemptuously and indignantly hurled into the sea from the wharf.

Thereafter, happily, and almost miraculously, were the ravages of that destructive element "fire," escaped for a period longer, perhaps, than follow the fortunes of cities constructed almost entirely of wood. But the time arrived when we were made to feel its blighting breath. While locked in the arms of sleep and fancied security, the "Fire King" took possession, and for eight long hours of the 19th of May, 1859, revelled in his wanton fury. From the corner of Simonton street to Whitehead street, including every building save two, in the four blocks between Front and Greene streets all that remained was ashes. No organized body of firemen existed in the city at that time, and no hooks and ladders, fire buckets or other apparatus necessary for the occasion, were on hand. The extensive warehouses and other stores of Messrs. O'Hara and Wells, between Simonton and Duval streets; the storehouses of Fontané and Weaver, Wall & Co., Packer & Boyé, P. A. Gandolfo, C. & E. Howe, and in fact all the business portion of the town, before the sun had passed its zenith on that day became smoldering ruins. Many of our citizens attributed the preservation of the remaining portion of the city to the thoughtful and daring action of Mr. Henry Mulrenon, who, having procured a keg of gunpowder from Fort Taylor, entered his own house on the corner of Fitzpatrick and Greene streets, then in imminent peril, but as yet unharmed, and placing the keg in position laid the train and blew the house up, to prevent the fire crossing the street and communicating with the large building occupied by Captain Geiger.

These two events, the hurricane and the fire, measure ably interrupted our progress at the times of their occurrence, but the effects were speedily overcome by the activity and energy of the sufferers. Fortunately no lives were lost on this occasion, nor did we stop to shed unavailing tears over our misfortunes. The sun rose on the morning after the fire, to behold active limbs and stout hearts clearing the ground of the debris, and the waning moon of the succeeding night shone upon the bright hammer of the mechanic, as he drove firmly home the yielding nail, in the construction of temporary buildings, soon to become, once more, the busy bustling mart of trade.

THE GREAT FIRE OF 1886.

But the most disastrous conflagration that ever visited the island occurred on March 30th, 1886, the flames breaking out at 1 o'clock in the morning at the San Carlos theatre, and, a violent wind blowing, the flames spread with great rapidity until $1,500,000 worth of property had been consumed, causing not only great financial loss but much suffering among the poorer classes, between 4,000 and 5,000 persons being thrown out of employment. Although many who had been comparatively well-to-do were in a few hours reduced to poverty, with brave hearts and bright hopes for the future the process of rebuilding was immediately commenced, and although evidences of the terrible disaster will be visible for some time to come, a fresh impetus has been given to building, more substantial edifices are being erected all over the island, and properties have largely advanced in value.

NEW BUILDINGS, ETC.

At the time this book went to press (January, 1887), about one hundred and fifty new buildings were being erected, and many more contracted for. Among the larger buildings for mercantile and manufacturing purposes that have been erected since the fire, and are now being built, are The Bank of Key West, the new Russell House, the cigar factories of Messrs. A. del Pino & Co., A. M. Castillo & Co., Julius Ellinger & Co., La Unica Cigar Co., J. H. Gregory, M. E. McDowell & Co., and several others—in fact so many new and large factories are being erected that an addition would have to be made to this list daily to approach accuracy. The John White Bank is putting up several large buildings for factory and other purposes. Some of the other new buildings are the new Masonic Hall, the Episcopal church, L. W. Pierce and C. R. Pierce & Co.'s stores and just as we go to press we receive a telegram that "a company, of which John Jay Philbrick, our leading steamship agent is President, Dr. J. V. Harris, Collector of Customs for the district, Secretary, and George W. Allen, Cashier of The Bank of Key West, Treasurer, was formed on January 12th, for erecting a first-class theatre, the first built on the island. It will be 150 feet square, with a seating capacity of 2,800, with ball and billiard room adjoining, the whole lit by electricity. A circus ring and race track will also be connected with it. It will be located on the South Beach, and its cost will be about $30,000." There are also many handsome private residences recently completed and rapidly approaching completion, among them being those of Messrs. R. A. Monsalvatge, R. M. Kemp, Robt. Curry, W. D. Cash, Livingston Bethel, Benj. Albury, J. Leon, F. C. Maloney, John Low, H. Jerman, and many others.

NEWSPAPERS.

The first newspaper, The Register, was commenced in January, 1829, but was short lived. The Gazette and The Inquirer were the next in order, followed by the Light of the Reef. In 1845, The Key of the Gulf made its first appearance. In 1862-3 a paper called the New Era was published. In 1867 the Key West Dispatch. In 1870 the Key West Guardian. There are at present writing three weekly papers published in the English language: The Democrat; The Equator (English and Spanish) and The Key of the Gulf. There are also several papers printed in the Spanish language.

HEALTH OF KEY WEST.

So far as health is dependent upon equability of temperature and salubrious winds, we certainly have no cause for apprehension. The prevalence of our Trades for nearly two-thirds of the year, affords little scope for the injurious effects of malarious influences, and the extreme range of the mercury in the shade, from the meteorological observations made at different periods, appears to have been only 54 degrees; 95 degrees being the maximum recorded in several years, and the minimum 41 degrees, recorded in 1868.

BURIAL GROUNDS.

The first graves were made on the western beach, between the town and Whitehead's Point. In 1831 a committee was appointed by the town council to select a proper site for the permanent location of a general burial place. Part of tract 15, lying between the termination of Whitehead street on the south beach and the point, was selected and used until 1847, when the present cemetery grounds were purchased. In 1868 the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of St. Augustine, secured from the city council the grant of three hundred feet square of an unoccupied portion of these grounds, for the consideration of "One Dollar;" and as the conveyance reads, "to be devoted to the exclusive use of a Catholic burying ground, by and under the control of the said Bishop and his successors in office."

STREET RAILWAYS.

Thanks to the enterprise of some of the leading spirits, among them Mr. E. H. Gato, who is also largely interested in many other improvements on the island, no one need walk who cares to ride. There are six miles of track laid through the principal streets, and a nickle will carry the passenger to most any part of the island.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES.

For many years the inhabitants of the island were at the mercy of the wind when they wished to visit the mainland, Cuba, or Nassau. Now the magnificent and fast sailing steamers of the N. Y. and Texas Steamship Company (Mallory Line) leave Key West for New York every Saturday morning, landing passengers and freight in the latter city on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning with the same regularity as an express train on the great trunk lines. These steamers also touch at Key West on the way to Galveston, Wednesday of each week, and for comfort and safety no finer vessels sail from the port of New York.

The Plant Steamship Co., in connection with the Morgan So. Pacific Co.'s S. S. Line, brings the mails, passengers and freight, from Tampa tri-weekly, and performs the same service from Havana, Cuba. The Mascotte is a great favorite on this route, and is one of the finest steamers that ever plied in southern waters. All modern conveniences are brought into requisition for the comfort of passengers, and the cuisine is of a superior order.

Steamers make regular weekly trips between this point and Nassau, carrying the mails, passengers and freight. The trip is a very delightful one, and the tourist should stick a pin right here, that a trip to Nassau must not be omitted.

There are also small steamers and sailing vessels that make occasional trips to the other Keys and to points on the mainland.

AN UNPARALLELED OFFER.

* SITUATION. *

THE CITY OF NAPLES is commandingly situated on the Gulf of Mexico, twenty-five miles south of Punta Rassa, in townships 49 and 50, south of range 25, east, in Monroe County, and embraces the most southern habitable portion of the Mainland on the Gulf coast of Florida.

* DESCRIPTION. *

The body of land on which the town is located is the finest in South Florida. It is high rolling timber pine land, intersected with high spruce pine ridges, running parallel to the Gulf, and from fifty to one hundred feet above sea level. The land is absolutely high and dry and is never at any time subject to overflow. For fertility and productiveness the soil is unsurpassed, and coconuts, pineapples, bananas, lemons, limes, oranges, and all other varieties of tropical fruits and early vegetables will grow here, as they will in no other part of South Florida. The town site has a frontage of five miles along the Gulf shore, where occurs a broad white shell beach, the finest in the State, on which a magnificent drive one hundred feet wide has been laid out its entire extent. There is no undertow or lateral currents, and the surf is unsurpassed for bathing facilities.

* COMMERCIAL IMPORTANCE. *

As before stated, NAPLES occupies the most southern point on the habitable Mainland of the Gulf coast, and as the struggle between all the great railroad systems of Florida is to reach deep water the furthest south, in order to command the trade of Mexico, Central and South America and the West India Islands, it is evident that, possessing in a remarkable degree all the natural advantages for this purpose, NAPLES must, in the natural course of events, become the great commercial entrepot of Southern Florida. As shown by a series of soundings, the deep water of the Gulf comes within a very short distance from shore, twenty foot water, accessible to sea-going vessels, being found within one hundred and fifty yards of shore, opposite the center of the city. Contiguous to the city, on the south, Gordon's Pass and Bay afford a splendid harbor and absolute protection for the ordinary coasting vessels. This point on the coast was selected as the terminus of the Great International Railway, and in a few years the sound of the engine's whistle will resound over the waters, as it speeds northward bearing on its way the rich commerce of the Southern Seas.

* CLIMATE. *

Owing to its almost insular position, NAPLES enjoys an unsurpassed climate, being cool in summer and warm in winter, thus making it not only habitable during both summer and winter, but presenting attractions as a resort during each of these seasons; judging from the experience of families already living there, the climate is as healthful as delightful. Several of the most prominent gentlemen of Florida have already secured lots for the purpose of building for themselves summer and winter homes.

* TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES. *

NAPLES is reached by way of the F. R. & N. Co., J., T. & K. W. Ry., South Florida R. R. and Florida Southern Ry. to Punta Gorda, thence by steamer Walkatamica to NAPLES, an agreement having been made with this steamer to ply between Punta Gorda and NAPLES as often as desired. It is the intention of the Company to place a steamer on this line in a few months, which will make regular trips between the two places.

* PRICES OF LOTS. *

In order to induce rapid settlement, the company has decided to offer for the next ninety days all odd numbered lots, without reserve, at the uniform price of $10 per lot; blocks 200x400 feet, of 16 lots, for $200, and half blocks 200x200, containing eight lots, for $100. After ninety days, all the lots will be graded and priced accordingly. To those seeking cheap and attractive homes in Florida, as well as investors and speculators, NAPLES offers more inducements than any other place in Florida.

This has not been gotten up merely as a speculating scheme, as have been so many Florida enterprises, but the projectors, recognizing the many attractions and natural advantages possessed by this section of the State, and believing that these will be appreciated by the immigrant and traveling public, have laid the foundation of a city which they confidently expect to be one of the most flourishing in Sunny Florida. We publish the grades of lands, depth of water and general description of the country, sworn to by the surveyors. If any are yet unsatisfied with these evidences, we invite them to visit NAPLES themselves and be convinced of the truthfulness of its claim by actual inspection.

A City Lot Given Away.

READ.

Lot in Macedonia and a Years' Subscription to the "Equator" for $2.50.

The Proprietors of the EQUATOR make the following unparalleled offer:

Every new subscriber to the paper for the coming year, or old subscribers renewing, who pays $2.50 in advance, will, in addition to the paper, receive a warranted deed to a town lot in our new addition to MACEDONIA CITY, size 36x100 feet.

This new and booming little town is located near Burnt Store, on Charlotte Harbor Bay. "Burnt Store" takes its name from the historical capture and burning of a large store at that point by Indians during the noted Seminole war of 1836-7. Its situation is the most delightful and beautiful on this picturesque and attractive bay, so broad and beautiful that the proud Indian in his musical language called it the Wees Oshampes, which means "broad waters."

This new town is in Monroe county; and hundreds of lots therein have already been sold to citizens of Key West at prices ranging from $5 to $25, and their deeds on record in the office of the Clerk of Court here.

Since we present only every alternate lot, we are enabled to make our subscribers this unheard of offer, knowing that the consequent increase in value of those we retain will amply repay us the loss of all we deed to the EQUATOR's patrons.

Do you want a lot—one spot of land you may call your own—besides a year's subscription to a valuable newspaper devoted to the interests of your city and state? If so, subscribe at once.

EQUATOR PUBLISHING CO.,
Publishers and Proprietors.

LEER.

Un Solar en Macedonia City y un Año de Suscripción a "El Ecuador" por $2.50.

Los propietarios de EL ECUADOR hacen la siguiente extraordinaria oferta.

A los nuevos suscriptores, ó á los antiguos que renueven la suscripción por el año entrante y nos paguen por adelantado dos pesos y cincuenta centavos, les daremos una escritura por un solar de 30 pies de frente y 100 de fondo en una nueva adición á Macedonia City.

Macedonia City está á muy corta distancia de Burnt Store, en Charlotte Harbor. Toma este nombre de Burnt Store de la histórica captura é incendio de un gran almacén en este punto, por los indios, durante la guerra de los Seminolas de 1836 á 1837.

Su situación es la mas bella y deliciosa en esta pintoresca bahía tan ancha y hermosa que los indios, en su idioma musical la llamaron la Neva Oshampes—anchas aguas.

Esta ciudad está en este Condado. Algunos cientos de solares se han vendido ya de $5 á $25, á ciudadanos de Key West y del Secretario del Condado. Podemos hacer esta oferta porque damos solamente los solares alternados, sabiendo que el aumento de valor que esto dará á los solares contiguos recompensará amplymente la pérdida que hayamos sufrido por esta oferta extraordinaria.

¿Queréis un solar, un pedazo de tierra que podáis llamar vuestro y además un año de suscripción á un periódico consagrado á los intereses de la ciudad y del Estado?

Pues suscribíos en seguida.

MYAKKA CITY

Among the most promising of the new cities in South Florida proper, is MYAKKA CITY, which possesses all the advantages of transportation, location, climate and soil, that have tended to so rapidly develop the southern portion of the Peninsula of Florida. MYAKKA CITY is charmingly located on the Myakka River, two miles from the Famous Charlotte Harbor. The river fronting the city is one mile in width, the thriving Scotch colony of Southland being on the river bank directly opposite. Steamers run from the principal points in Charlotte Harbor to Myakka City, where they connect with the Charlotte Harbor & Gulf R.R. for Grove City.

The land is high, climate healthy, and the soil well adapted to the production of all the tropical and semi-tropical fruits. Plans of MYAKKA CITY can be seen and city lots purchased at Nothing has been overlooked in the construction of these vessels; and their fine model, full power and excellent sea-going qualities, have won for them the enviable reputation they possess.

Passenger accommodations, both Cabin and Steerage, are unsurpassed. Staterooms being above the main deck, are light, roomy and thoroughly ventilated, thus assuring to the Traveler the greatest degree of comfort attainable.

Connections are made at all the ports at which these Steamers touch with all Railroads and Steamboats.
